His horse went dead and his mule went lame.
And he lost his cow in a poker game.
Then a cyclone came on a summer's day.
And blew the house where he lived away.
Then an earthquake came, and when that was gone,
And swallowed the ground that the house stood on.
Then the tax collector came around
And charged him up with the hole in the ground.

Mrs. J. B. Griffith.

Mrs. J. B. Griffith, of Jasper, died Tuesday in a Chattanooga hospital. Her remains were brought to Jasper yesterday morning for interment, and burial made at Pleasant Grove. She leaves a husband and seven children. The case has been a most pitiable one, as her husband, lured on by a fondness for drink, has been into one trouble after another, and the result was a desolate home. The children are now in an asylum, while the mother rests in her grave.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and 4 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and removes dandruff. It is excellent for falling hair and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.

HOUSING OF YOUNG CHICKS IS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE

"A" Shape Coop Very Practicable in Tennessee—Care Should Also Be Taken in Feeding.

(By R. N. Crane, Division of Extension, University of Tennessee.)

At this season of the year the women on the farm are busy setting hens, and starting off the young chickens. I know of no way that the men on the farm can facilitate this work any more than by supplying the farm women with adequate coops in which to house the old hens, and the brood of chickens.

Perhaps one of the best coops for Tennessee conditions is the "A" shape coop, with tight walls, and a detachable wooden bottom. The back of the coop should be solid plank with a half dozen augur holes through it for ventilation, sufficiently small, however, that rats can not get through. The front of the coop should have slats, 2½ inches apart. The hen should be confined in the coop from the time the chickens are hatched until they are weaned, allowing the chickens free access to the yard. With the hen confined, during heavy rains one is not compelled to get out, and gather up the chickens. Rather the old hens will gather them in on the wooden floor where they will be safe from drowning.

The best feed for the young chickens for the first four or five days seems to be hard boiled eggs broken up fine with the shell included. It is well to add any egg shells that may be left from the eggs used in the kitchen. First scorch them, then break up fine, and mix with the hard boiled eggs. After the fourth or fifth day, feed corn-bread made as follows: Ten pounds of cornmeal, one dozen eggs, one pound of sifted beef scrap, enough milk to make a pastry mash, and one teaspoon of baking soda. Bake well. This should be fed for four or five weeks, after which time small cracked grain should constitute the feed.

Chickens should be fed five times a day for the first week, and for the second, third and fourth weeks three to four times a day. Before the chicks at all times should be kept a mash consisting of two parts each by weight of wheat bran, wheat middlings and cornmeal. Add ten pounds of beef scrap, and two pounds of granulated charcoal for every one hundred pounds of this mixture. The cracked grain is to be fed morning and evening. An ample supply of fresh water, buttermilk or clabbered skimmed milk, and coarse sand or chick sized grit will be kept before the chickens at all times.

SOUP—BEGINNING OF MEAL

Points to Be Observed By Housewife in Preparing and Serving.

(By Geneva Conway, Division of Extension, University of Tennessee.)

Soup made with or without stock forms an excellent dish as a starter for a meal and at the same time serves as a means for using up left overs.

Soup with stock can be made as follows: 2 pounds beef or chicken, 1 quart water, 2 tablespoonsful chopped carrot, 2 tablespoonsful chopped celery, 1 slice of green pepper, 1 small onion, 1 branch of parsley.

When making soup choose the tough cuts of beef as they have a better flavor, are cheaper and have a higher food value than the more tender ones. Select a piece from the hind shank having not more than one-half pound of bone when using two of beef. Wipe the meat with a clean damp cloth and cut into small pieces about one inch square. This exposes more surface and lets the juices escape into the liquid giving a good flavor. Brown in a little fat, about one-fourth of the meat so cut. This keeps the juices in a part of the meat. After browning a part add raw meat and bone and then the water. Cover and let cook slowly. If the water boils too quickly the meat that has not been browned will be exposed to a high temperature and made tough. If cooked slowly for a long time the juices will be drawn out and the meat will be tender. Let this simmer three or four hours, add the vegetables and let simmer another hour. This cooking can be done with great satisfaction in the fireless cooker. (Directions for the making of one will be sent free on request to the Division of Extension, College of Agriculture, University of Tennessee, Knoxville.)

To Make Different Soups.

Now if you want a clear soup, strain, cool, and take off any fat that has gathered on the surface.

If a bouillon is desired, clear with egg white, using one egg white to a quart of broth and allowing the liquid to boil for five minutes. Then strain.

If a vegetable soup is desired, add any desired vegetables to the meat and water. With such a soup a few left over tomatoes, potatoes, peas, corn, beans, etc., can be added to good advantage as they supply food value, add flavor, and use up what otherwise would be thrown out.

Why We Eat Soup.

This type of soup contains nourishment. However, a great deal of water is used in the making of soup and so we have to eat a greater quantity than we would of a more concentrated food in order to get the same amount of nourishment. Therefore, the chief value of soup lies in the stimulating effect it has on the digestive juices.

We serve this type of soup in small quantities preceding a heavy meal as a dinner.

WHITWELL MAN USES "HERBMYSTIC" WITH ASTOUNDING RESULTS

Gains 37 Pounds and Begins to Eat Anything after Taking Just Seven Doses—Cured of Stomach Trouble After 21 Years Suffering.

Mr. John T. Christain, of Whitwell, Marion county, Tenn., says he is preaching the gospel of good health, after using four bottles of "Herbmystic." Nature's Greatest Tonic, the superior preparation. Here's the startling facts in his case: "I am glad to have the opportunity to explain my case to you. I have had what the doctors called stomach trouble for 21 years. I have tried all kinds of medicine that was recommended for indigestion. I have spent hundreds of dollars for the different remedies, but did not get any relief. First of June I had to stop eating anything except a little soup, every time I would eat anything I would have smothering spells, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and I got so I couldn't walk to my work, which was a mile away, had to rest five and six times. I got so weak I had about given up all hope of ever getting well. Two of the best doctors in town did all they could for me, but no relief. I had not eaten a bite of bread in four months. On Oct. 16th I bought a bottle of "Herbmystic." I weighed 120 pounds. After taking seven doses, I ate bread, and began to eat anything I wanted to eat and it did not hurt me. I did not smother, shortness of breath all gone, can walk to my work in forty minutes, where I took two hours to go. Nov. 16th, one month later, I weighed 157 pounds. I gained 13 lbs. in one month. Today, Dec. 31, I weigh 147 lbs. I am feeling better than I have felt in 21 years. I have used four bottles of "Herbmystic" and I can't praise this medicine high enough for what it has done for me. It has cured me of Stomach trouble, Liver, and Kidney disease. I am as well as I ever was and I don't feel any effects of stomach trouble any more. Many thanks to you for this great remedy. I am preaching the gospel of good health telling the people what "Herbmystic" has done for me, will do the same for them. I wish every person in the world that is sick would use one bottle and be convinced that they can be cured. The druggist can not keep it. They got in a supply a few weeks ago and it's all gone."

This is one of many statements that we have received from grateful people, certifying to the wonderful curative powers of this superior preparation "Herbmystic" is sold in Sequatchie Valley by Evans & Pope, Whitwell, J. W. Simpson & Son, Jasper, Jno. J. Ingle, South Pittsburg.
